

Overview

Sabrina is a Client Director at Merryck, supporting customers, clients and mentors across global engagements and ensuring that we meet and exceed our client and customers' current, future and evolving needs. As well as being the first point of contact for many of our customers, Sabrina oversees all of our team and cohort work and works alongside mentors to both design and co-deliver large programmes.

Career History

Sabrina has been with Merryck since 2017. Prior to working at Merryck, Sabrina supported two Partners at Egon Zehnder who were focused on CEO succession across FTSE 100 organisations. She spent 3 years at Hanover Communications, a corporate communications and public affairs consultancy, working closely with the Managing Director. A trained Broadcast Journalist, Sabrina has a joint History and Politics degree from the University of Wales Swansea and a PGdip in Broadcast Journalism from University College Falmouth. She has completed Agile Project Management at Westminster Business School and has an Executive Coaching Qualification from Bristol UWE.

Personal

Sabrina enjoys spending time with family and has two young children. She also plays lawn bowls at county level, enjoys painting and is an avid reader.
