Entrepreneur and Mentor

Ken's career trajectory defies the conventional path. He isn't just a seasoned professional; he's a transformative leader who reshaped industries and ignited entrepreneurial ventures.

His journey began at HSBC, where he transformed retail banking, championing customer service and leaving an indelible mark on the organisation. Subsequent leadership roles at Hamptons International, Citi-Financial, and MG Capital showcased his versatility and strategic acumen, culminating in a successful AIM market floatation for MG Capital.

But in 2002, Ken faced his most crucial challenge when he took the helm of ILX Group, a struggling AIM-listed company teetering on the brink. With unwavering resolve and strategic foresight, he implemented a swift turnaround, propelling the ailing business to global leadership in its field within a short timeframe. This remarkable feat earned him recognition as a regional winner at the prestigious Ernst & Young's Entrepreneur of the Year Awards in 2009.

Ken's entrepreneurial spirit extends far beyond his corporate achievements. He co-founded Moncrief London, a luxury fashion brand, and Fund My Deposit, a FinTech company empowering first-time homebuyers to get on the housing ladder. He currently chairs JLC Distribution, a thriving IT distributor, and the Lending Standards Board, a self-regulatory body driving better outcomes for consumer and small business customers of UK banks. Thus demonstrating his commitment to diverse leadership roles in different sectors.

A true "renaissance man," Ken's dedication to lifelong learning extends beyond the boardroom. He embodies the spirit of continuous exploration, even finding time to pursue his passion for music as a guitarist and mentor to aspiring musicians.

Ken's inspiring story is a testament to the power of vision, resilience, and a relentless pursuit of excellence. He serves as an inspiration to anyone who dares to dream big, embrace transformation, and make a lasting impact on the world.
